Knick off your shoes.
Tear off all false pretenses,
Charge down an open field ---
Your feet will be amazed at their freedom.

Open your mouth
And yell --- Anything.
And your mouth will feel happiness.

Accept people. . .
Who and what they are,
With all their shortcomings and faults - - -
And you will feel brotherhood.

Sit in the grass
And watch the sun go down
And the moon go up ---
And you will feel peace.

Pick a flower from an open field,
One that sat by itself,
One that looks like it may need you ---
And you will feel beauty.

Talk to people,
Listen with an open mind,
Speak simple words ---
And mankind you will understand.

Give your hand to a friend,
And when he takes it
The warmth will rush to your heart ---
And your heart will feel love.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

M.F. SMELTZER

Reflecting the society of which it is a part, the High School of today is changing significantly and extensively and surprisingly quickly. The High School is becoming an institution with an ever-widening variety of learning situations. It is becoming a congenial place where its students and staff live and work, seeking out information and then using that information in meaningful and constructive ways. The modern High School imparts information which may assist young people when they grow up, but it recognizes now that living and learning are inseparable. Young people do not stop living in order to learn, nor do older people stop learning in order to live.

Perhaps the biggest change the grad of ten years ago would recognize would be that today's high school student has privileges and responsibilities far beyond any assumed or expected in his day. This 1972-73 Harry Ainlay yearbook has been organized, written and edited by a group of determined young people who have generously given of their time, energy and ingenuity. We are all indebted to them for an outstanding recording of the struggles and successes at Harry Ainlay 1972-73. We know that you will enjoy this book now and many times in the years to come.

STUDENTS' UNION

President
Janet Graham

Dissatisfaction is often in evidence at our school. Students, teachers and administrators grumble about biased textbooks, filthy hallways or the 4-6 semester system. Since the educational system, or anything else for that matter, can be improved only if its shortcomings are exposed, this complaint is good.

Unfortunately, however, it is not enough. Unless our grievances are coupled with ideas for improvement and welded by action into place, nothing will change.

Please think about it the next time you snarl out your complaints. You are the only person who can rectify the situation.

Of course, you may not succeed; but at least try. It's astonishing what you can accomplish.

ART and PROSE

I SIT ACROSS THE ROOM

I sit across the room from you watching your hands guide brush and paint upon the paper your head bent, intent upon your work your thoughts on the words dangling between us, unspoken.
I hesitate held in pained silence trembling, nervously caught between the clarity of my thoughts and the tangle of my words.
Locked behind walls of silence
unable to reach out and touch your heart
I cry out in anger and pain, with my mind because I can't reach out my hand in tenderness
"I can't speak"
I whisper, screaming whole worlds of meaning to you all passing by unheard.
And pray for you to look up and read the volumes written in my eyes
inscribed on my soul.
I scream out my pain to you but a thousand miles lie between us filled with silent emptiness and dangling words that glitter like raindrops, frozen in the air
unspoken.
I sit here,
watching your hands guide colour across paper,
locked behind walls of silence
curtained in a haze of tears and frozen words.

SUN-LESS SCHOOL

On a winter's day, I Get up at seven and Arrive at school at eight

No windows, artificial Lighting all around.
I leave the school
At three.
The sun is down.

Does the Sun still exist?
Not for me.
Only for those in Schools with windows.

LIFE

Insatiable reasons fill my head as I strive to answer the question why

The perfect reasons come to mind as I realize the answer is why not

FEAR

I stand here in the middle of the street

Watching the whole world go by

And seeing absolutely nothing

It frightens me

I'm beginning to think it may be because there's absolutely nothing

there to see.

Lee Phillips

I DIDN'T KNOW

I didn't know how badly I wanted to stay
'til I tried to go.

Tanis Wilson

LOVE, I SUPPOSE

Love,
I suppose is finding the echo of your soul in another's eyes

Friendship,
I suppose is finding the echo of your mind in another's words

Loneliness,
I know is knowing what you're looking for and not being able to find it anywhere but in yourself.

Lee Phillips

ALONE

Sometimes
I walk the empty streets listening to the infinite silence and staring at the unseen.

My mind is filled with joy, clutching at all beauty.
Embracing those who pass me and giving my heart to the lonely people I see.

Then I realize the world is still hollow, the unseen and lonely still unnoticed, all silence shattered, the streets empty and forlorn, and I am still alone.

Rob Griffin

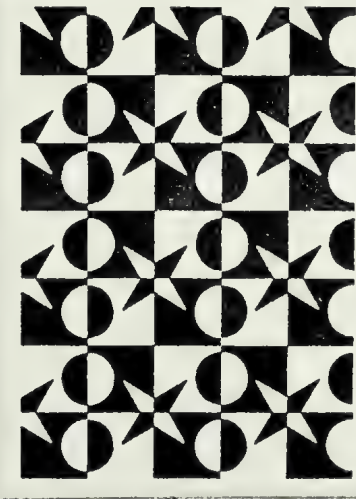

WHEN SUMMER'S OVER

When summer's over and sunbaked sand turns cold, and ice swims in silent lakes
and whispered words in darkened rooms become the past and life's summer hearts beat slower,
 avoiding reality --

 then there are still two laughing faces running through memories

A SPECIAL "THANKS" to Mr.
Rohrlack, who made the Art Show possible.

LA RAYNE

We use the letters of our alphabets every day with the utmost case and unconcern taking them almost for granted as much as the air we breath; we do not realize that each of these letters is at our service today only as a result of a long and laborously slow process of evolution in the age old art of writing.

SKI CLUB

The Ainlay Ski Club was one of the greatest successes in the way of clubs this year. It consisted of about 200 members which is almost twice the number from last year. There were two trips to Sunshine and one trip to Marmot.

Special thanks to Mr. Vague, Mr. Klapstein, Mr. Sterling, and all other staff members who helped make the trips possible.

The trips were all great fun and great skiing!

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Photography Club, unfortunately, did not go over too well this year. But with the help of three willing photographers we were able to obtain enough pictures for the production of our TITAN TRADITION.

Even though sometimes we were a little worried whether we would see any pictures at all, Barry Chute, Ichiro Fujinaga, and Brian Martin spent lunch hours and time after school helping out and pulling together loose ends to make your year-book a success.

The Table Tennis Club is a "fun" club, open to all students. They play mostly during the noon hour and sometimes after school. Each year a city league is also formed for any interested students.

DRAMA CLUB

The Drama Club has prepared and produced four plays during the year. In the fall they joined with the Drama 30 class to present a theatre-for-children program which toured under the auspices of Theatre Edmonton for Young Audiences. The club's presentation, "The Dancing Donkey," had in its cast Terry McMurchy, Kathy Hampton, Doug Myhre, Mike Sufert, Ross Rapchan and Bruce Thomson. They played to overflowing audiences throughout the city. Another fall project was "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail". In the cast of this important documentary, were John Ferres, Bruce Thomson, Ken Bateman, Mr. D. Wilson, Satya Das, Wendy Spriggs, Diane Jacobson, Brenda Cooper, Dale Gillespie, Martyn Thomas, Kathy Hampton, Audrey Hodgson, Barry Thomas, Randy Kapchinski, Lance McLaren, Steve McKinnon.

Our major production, "Bousille and the Just," a French-Canadian play, was presented in March. This hard-hitting play, which spoke out against hypocrisy in religion, caused quite an impact. In the cast were: Laurie Neil, Bruce Thomson, Steve McKinnon, Diane Jacobson, Kathy Hampton, Barry Thomas, Martyn Thomas, Dale Gillespie.

For its final presentation and festival entry the club is preparing "I Never Saw Another Butterfly." This touching play describes the life in the Jewish concentration camps of Nazi Germany. The cast includes Diane Jacobson, Meredith Wood, Terry McMurchy, Bruce Thomson, Carol Tocher, Paul Judd, Audrey Hodgson, Wendy Spriggs, Kathy Hampton, Debbie Bauer, Satya Das, Martin Thomas, Martha Saldat, Dave Gillespie, Paula Waid.

INTERSCHOOL CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Interschool Christian Fellowship started at Ainlay in February, 1973. Besides city-wide activities involving many schools, there are regular in school club meetings once a week as well as other activities such as breakfasts and dessert meetings. Special speakers, panels and films have also been arranged. I. S. C. F. also, in addition to Bible discussion and folk singing, offers weekend camps to all high schools' students at various times throughout the year, which takes place at Pioneer Lodge. Ainlay participation at camp this year has been really good and has provided a great opportunity to meet new people.

THE NEWSPAPER

In actual fact there were two newspapers for a time this year - Warren Jackson led the Ainlay "Sword and Shield", while Birnie and Day ran "Issue II", in the regal splendour of their east-end office.

A parting of the ways came for "Issue II's" illustrious team, with Birnie moving to A.S.S. and changing its name to "Ainlay Today".

With a little pressure from high up, the two papers merged at Christmas under John Ferris and Sue Chittick. The name "Trivial Point" was adopted, and it still remains that today.

Since the early days of the Gestetner, Ainlay's newspaper empire has come full circle, and under the leadership of Steve McKinnon it ended a satisfactory year in June.

Other clubs at Ainlay consisted of:

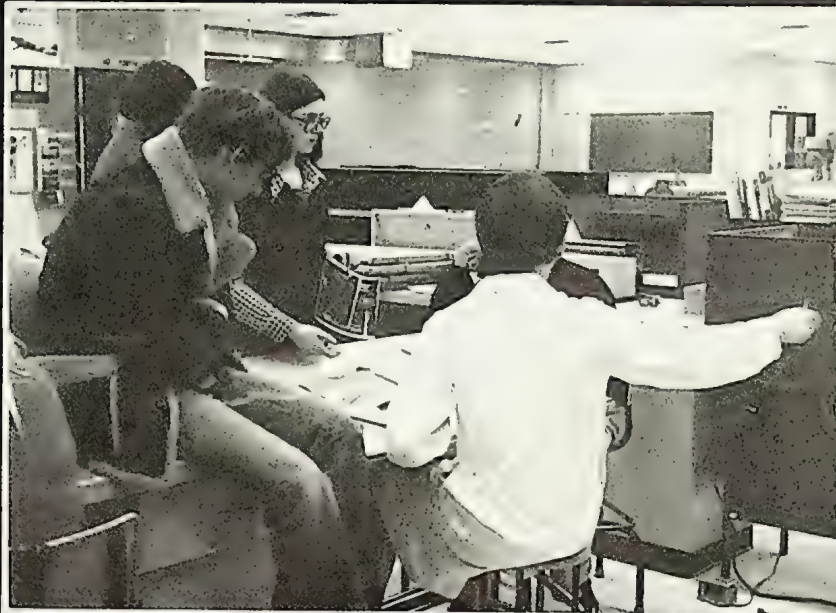

- Audio-Visual
- Chess
- Debating
- Library
- Math
- Yearbook
- Literary Magazine

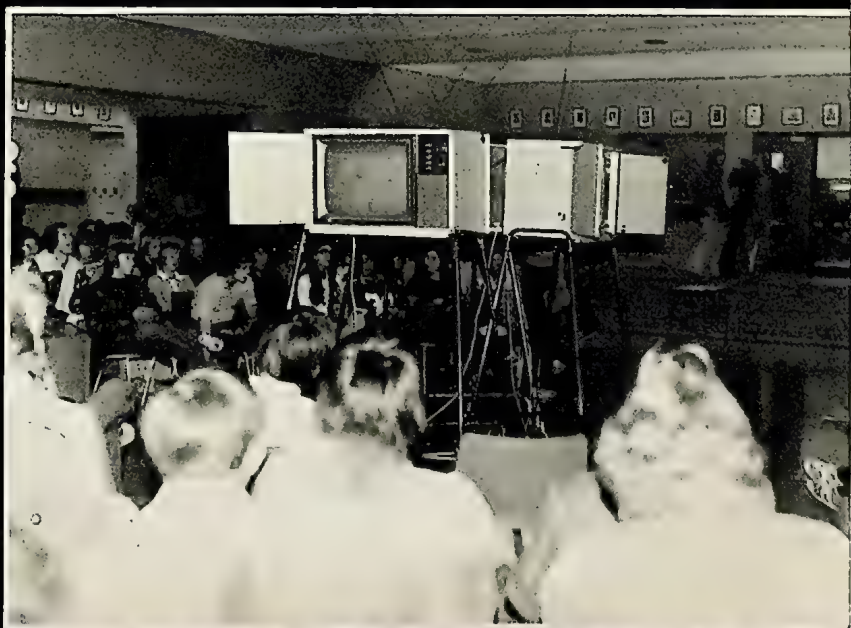

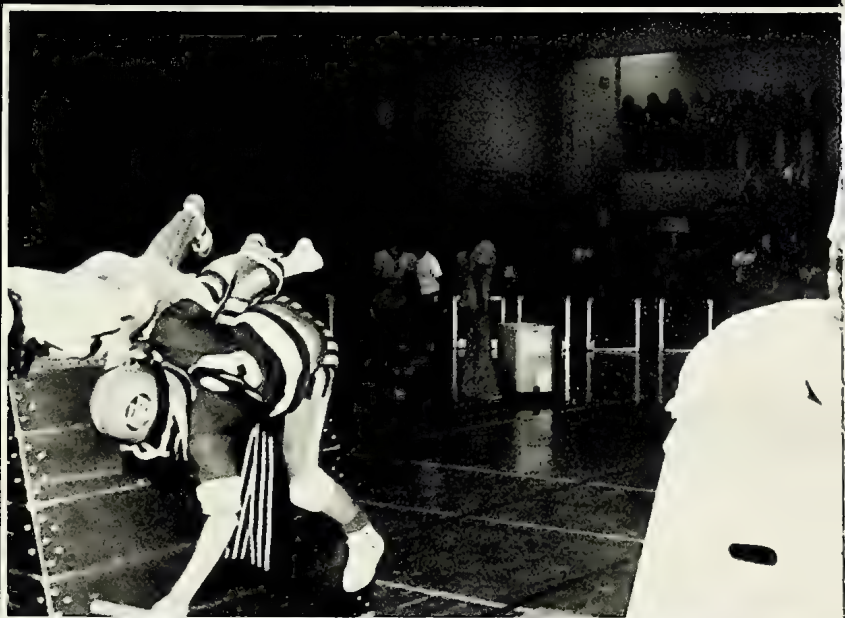

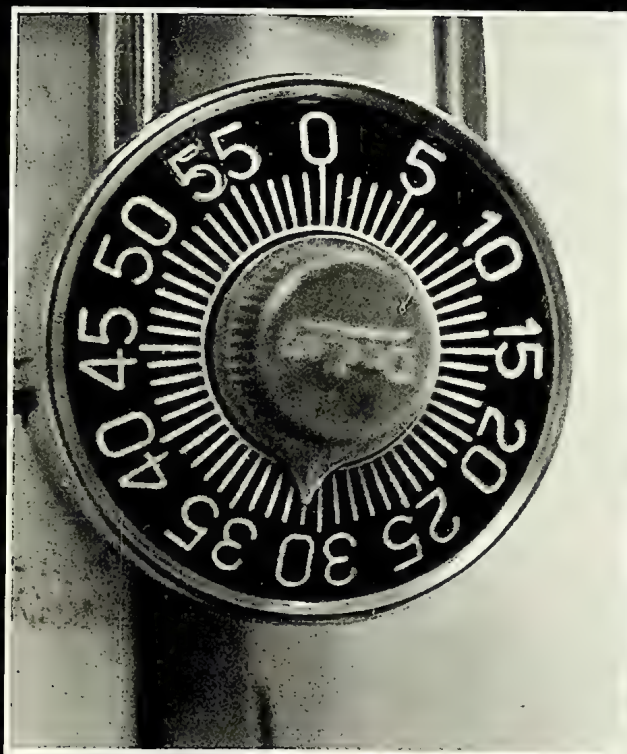

THIS WAS FROSH!

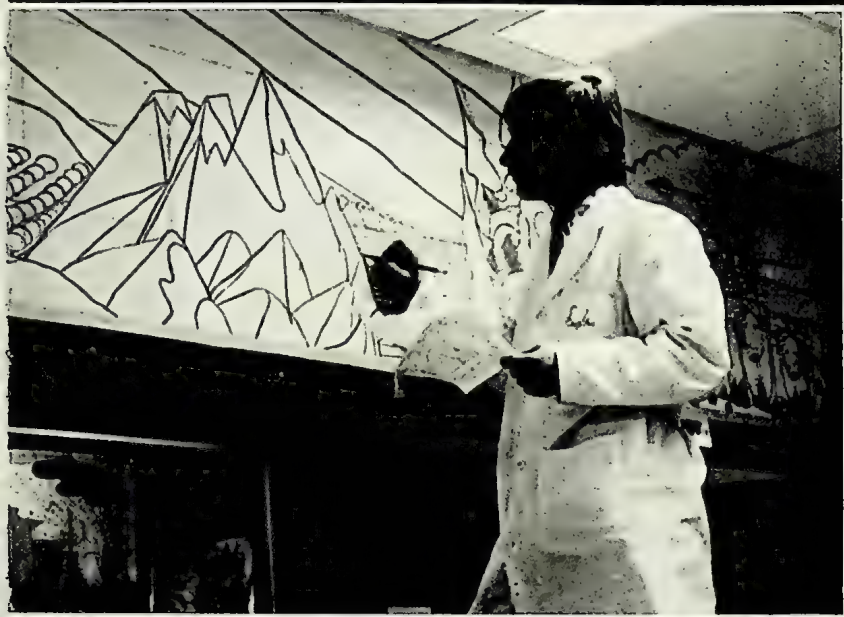

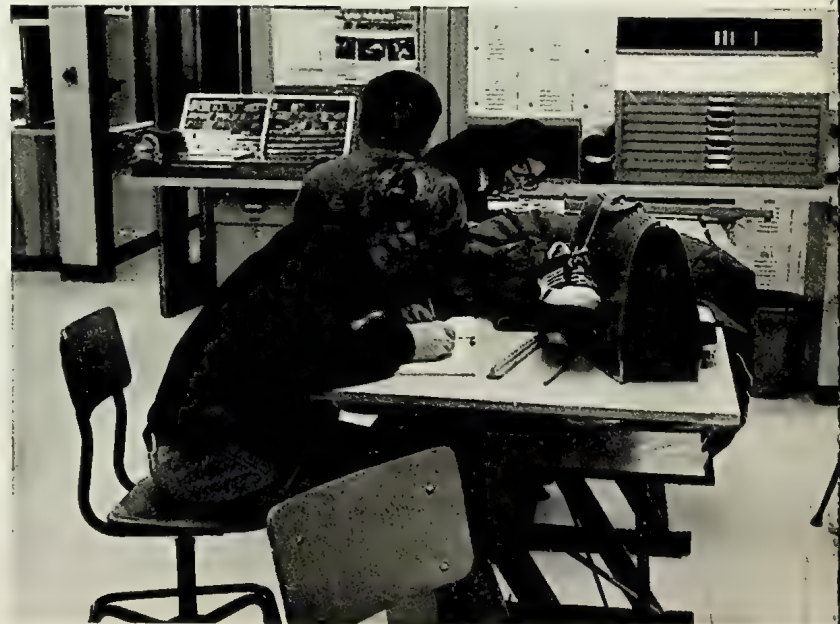

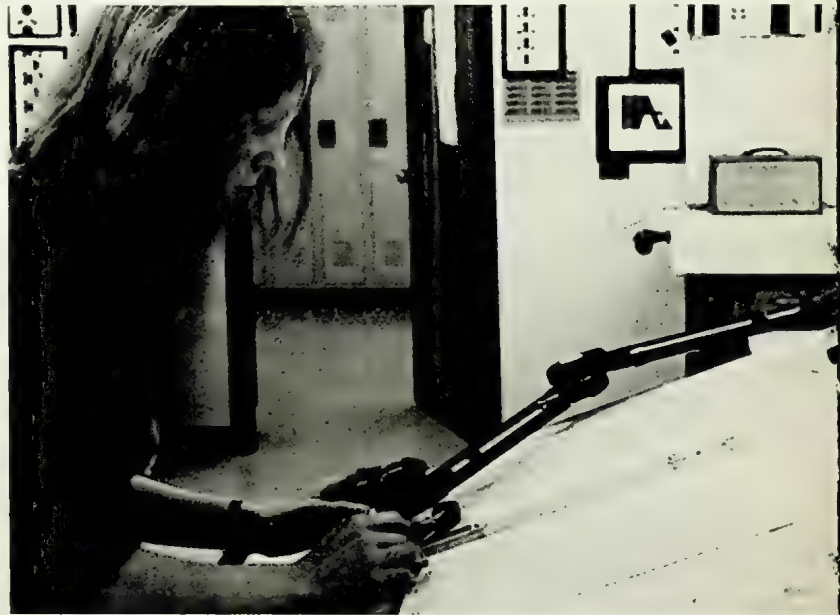

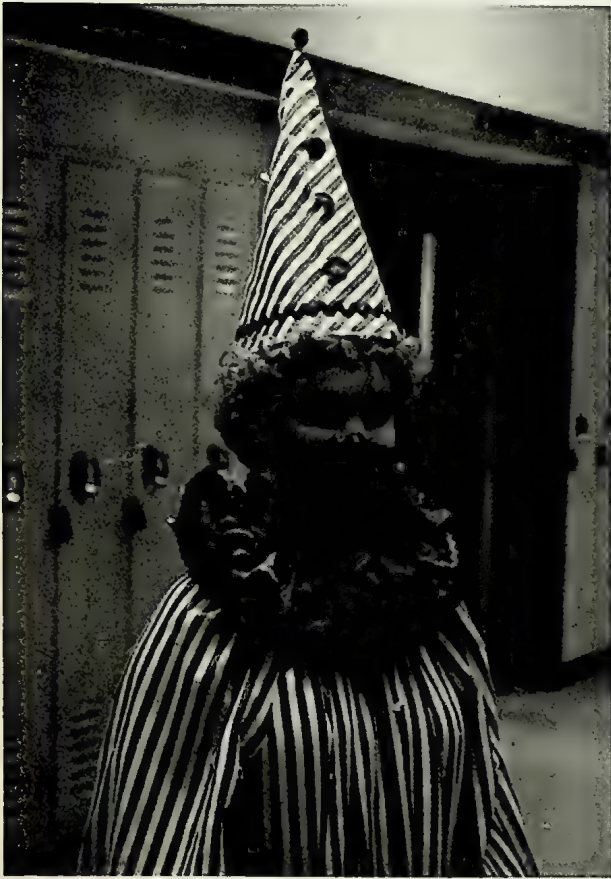

A MODEST ODE TO A TITANIC VICTORY

When Lee Phipps with her lovely voice
Said, "Stolee, we did win,"
With joy I dropped the phone
And broke into a grin.

When Anderson with measured tone
Told of the bitter strife,
I must admit I never did Feel better in my life.

Our noble Titans' sad defeats
Had never troubled me
For I had faith that our dear lads
Would win to victory.

It's not we hated Eastglen-
It just got in our way
Our team was primed for victory
On this auspicious day.

The stars are in our favor,
The gods are on our side;
In victory we are modest
We do not swell with pride.

We will not play the braggart,
We will not rant and boast,
But merely whisper modestly
"Our Titans are the most!"

For those whose minds are feeble
Go bragging of their school;
We are discreet and modest
That is our golden rule.

But heaven will forgive us
If at mention of our team
Our eyes light up with gladness,
Our humble faces beam.

And who is there will blame us
If after dark defeats
We softly sigh with pleasure
"Ah victory is sweet."

- Mr. Stolee

MIDDLE ROW: Doug Irvine, Darryl Schwab, Randy Swiniarski, Curtis Llewellyn, Dennis Yasui, Boris Station, Gus Yusyk, Tom Gardiner, Rudy Hapke, Bill Betts, John Tollovsen.

Coaches for the team were Mr. Anderson, Mr. Tulloch, Mr. Webb, Mr. Wynychuck, and Mr. Darr. Randy Jahrig, Manager.

The Senior Titans' Football team started their season with the idea of having a winning season. Our goal was to finish 4-3 and gain some experience for the next year.

An extremely determined team was led offensively by the power running of Grant Yuzyk, Ron Kubsch and Garry Lilley; and the passing and receiving of Brian Gingera, Dale Getty, and John Tietzen. Defensively the team was anchored by the excellent play of such players as John Tollovsen, Darcy Hinchelwood, and Wes McHarg.

The key to the team's eventual success lay, however, in the growth of the "rookies". First year men such as Willie Babcock, Chuck Denham, Pat Thirlwell, Bill Betts, Dennis Yasui, and many others. The tough blocking of linemen like Doug Irvine and Phil May secured the team.

The team placed second in the South division, rolled over number one north Queen Elizabeth, and lost a well played city final to Bonnie Doon (Provincial Champs) by a score of 21 to 6. The third straight city final for our Senior team.

1973 is the year of the Titans!

JR. BOYS FOOTBALL TEAM

BACK ROW: Barry Stollery, Perry Stensland, Keith Holmes, Wayne Lilley, Dave Gilmour, Rick Seib, Don Redden, Kevin Schular, Warren Bardy.

THIRD ROW: Harry Krentz, Dave Cox, Vic Henning, Rob McGregor, Joe Wheeler, Lynn Howell, Ron Haskell, Dave Breakwell, Bruce Hougan, Bill May, Dave Bowley, Bernie Jess, Jeff Dean, Darrell Durrant.

COACHES: Mr. Hignell, Mr. Vague.

FRONT ROW: Mike Station, Ken Bardy, Dwight Fraser.

COACHES: Mr. Olexiuk, Mr. Brown, Mr. Kotyk.

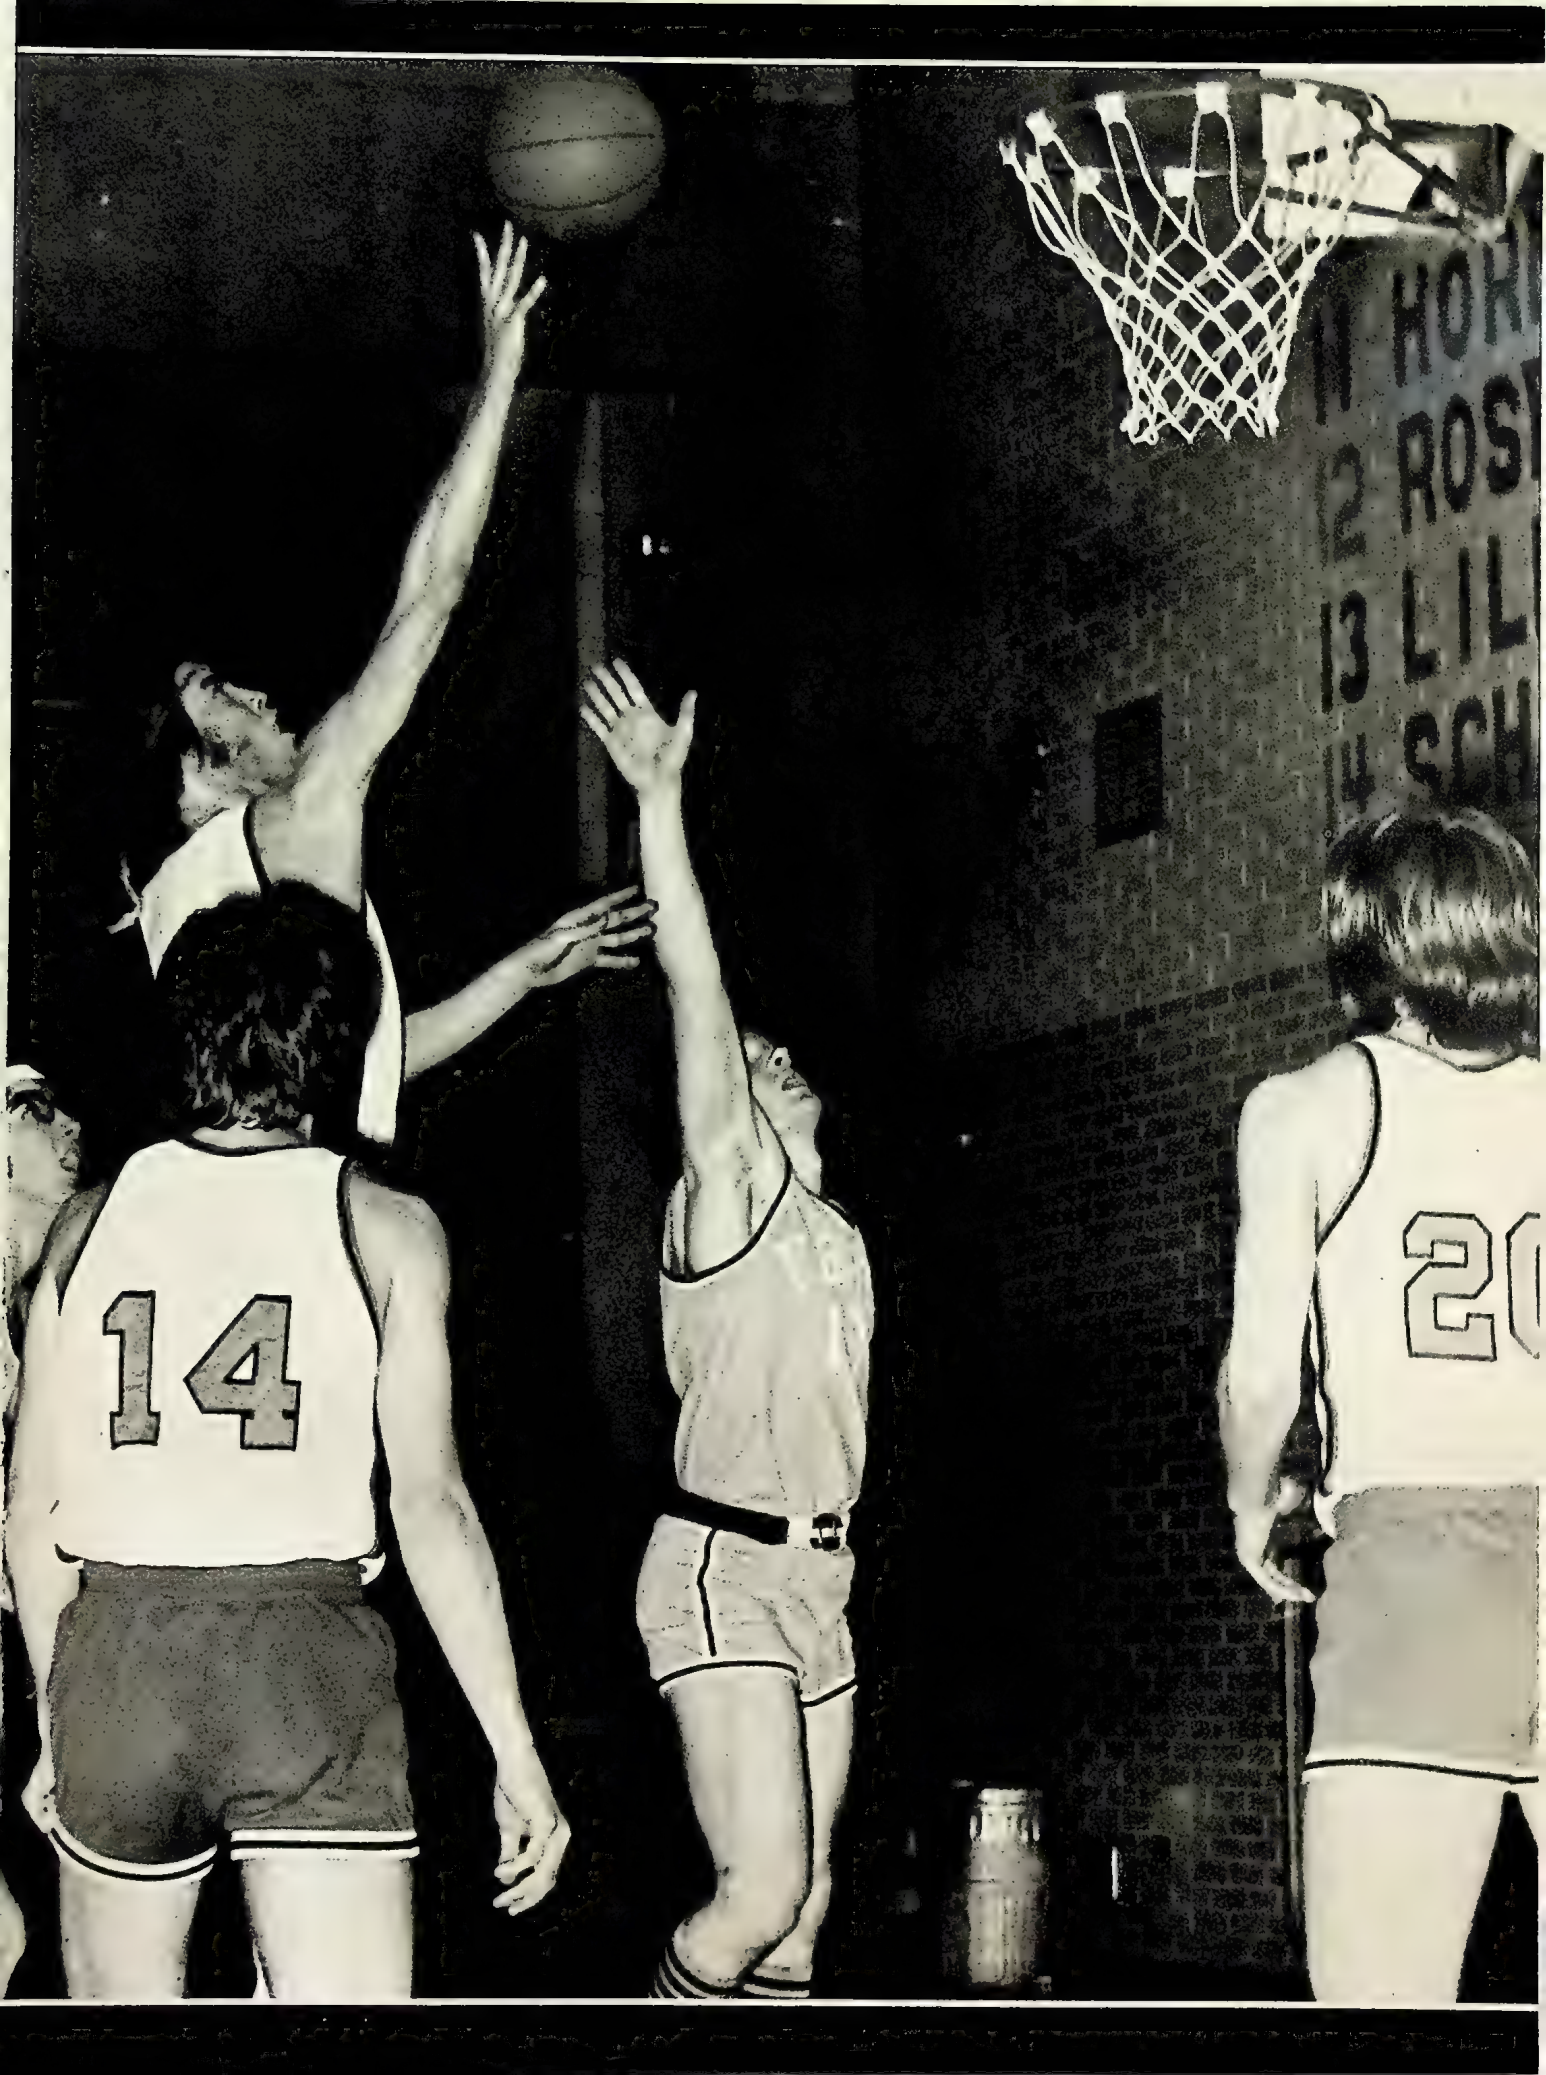

SR. BOYS BASKETBALL TEAM

The 1972-73 Senior Titan Basketball team started the season with five strong returnees and added some outstanding junior players to create a promising group from their very first game. Wes McHarg, Gary Lilley and Bill Peterson led the team in the early going, being selected as all-stars in three consecutive tournaments. Dale Getty and Rick Rosborough both developed into outstanding seniors as the season progressed. The determined defensive play of starting guards Robin Rosborough and Norbert Schulz typified the season for the Titans, who finished the year as Division One City Champs, ahead of Bonnie Doon; finished second to the Lancers in the City Play-offs; and finished the year losing a well played game to the eventual Provincial Champs, Calgary Churchill, by seven points.

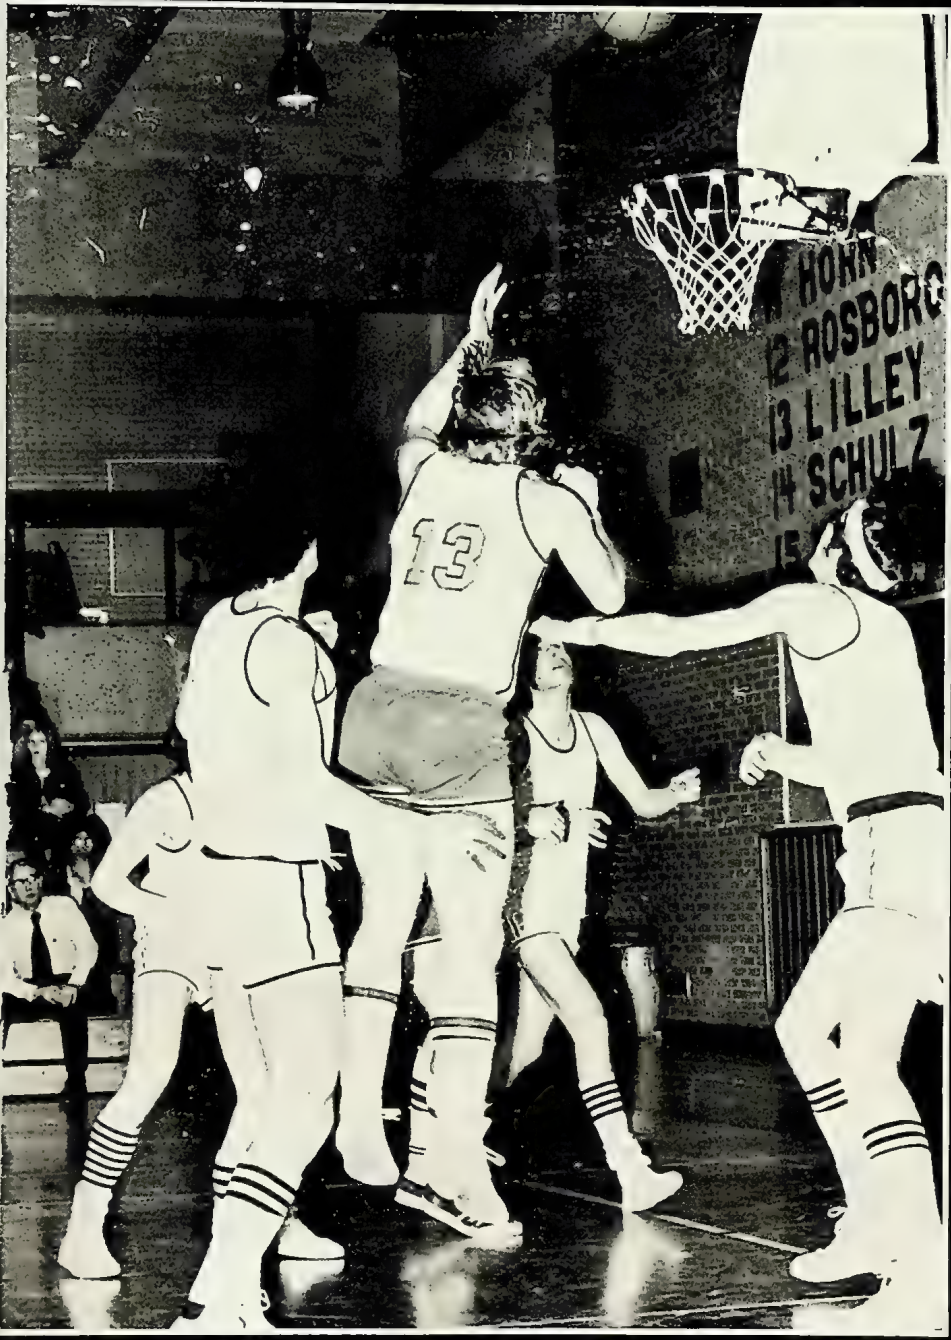

JR. BOYS BASKETBALL TEAM

The Junior Boys' Basketball team consisted of rookies this year as all players were new to the league. Led by captains Wayne Lilley and Dave Bowley, the Junior Titans finished league play with a 4 and 5 record and finished tied for eighth in a tight league. In the play-offs, they lost by a narrow margin to O'Leary 41 to 43. Prior to league play they had an exhibition season in which they won three and lost eight games. The better record in league play, losing several games by under ten points, showed a continued improvement in team and player ability through the season.

JR. BOYS VOLLEYBALL TEAM

The Junior Boys' Volleyball team was basically a Grade 10 group of athletes who found the competition very difficult in the early stage of league competition. Their determined attitude and willingness to learn as we progressed through the '72 game schedule brought a degree of success which became more and more evident. The team climbed from last position and finished in ninth place in the 17 team league - one point short of qualifying them for the 8 team play-off.

Stan Sagert proved to be our most skillful server, Heinz Krenz was our most reliable setter, and Steve Rosborough and Tom Benz were our strength in the spiking department. Our team captain, Don MacNeil, and Dave Bowley, who joined us after the football season, provided a depth of all-round ability which enabled the junior Titans to finish so strongly, winning 10 out of our last 12 games.

Next year this team will provide the Seniors with good prospective players and will allow for a nucleus for the Junior team.

JR. GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAM

BACK ROW: Kim Moxon, Pam Anderson, Sylvia Surry.

THIRD ROW: Jo-Anne Ussleman, Colleen Alexander, Cathy Turkwell, Debbie Cummins.

SOCCER TEAMS

Inter-school soccer this year at Harry Ainlay is flourishing. Two senior teams were formed and coached by Mr. Cragg and Mr. Klapstein, and the Juniors were handled by Mr. Primrose. At the time of writing it appears that one of our senior teams and our junior team will enter the city play-offs.

This team is composed primarily of Titan juniors who have graduated to senior ranks this year. Norbert Schultz was chosen captain and is the leading goal scorer on the team. Brad Mate, formerly from Calgary has added a lot of experience and skill to the team. Brad's long throw-ins will long be remembered. Newcomers in soccer this year include Wes McHarg, Dan McKitrick, Robin Rosborough, and Mike Johnston formerly from Winnipeg, all of whom have made significant contributions to the team's success. Willie Babcock stepped into the unfamiliar position of goalie and earned three shut-outs in our first three games. Every member on the team has showed a determination to learn new skills and ideas, have blended together as a cohesive unit and have exercised the will to win. It appears that this senior Titan team will be a contender for the city championship and in this endeavor we wish them well.

FRONT ROW: Wilf Golbeck, Dwight Fraser, John Mowat, Lynn Howell.
MISSING: Bob Lalande, Martin Berger, David Ross.

GRAD COUNCIL '73

As graduation president this year I found it very rewarding; not only did I learn to introduce people (Mr. Stolee) but I enjoyed seeing so many fellow students out having a good time. Grad, I believe, was very successful, and as the time came nearer, all of us of the grad class drew closer. I enjoyed being your president and wish you all the best of luck in the future!

GRADUATION 1973

MAY 3 & 4

The commencement exercises of Ainlay's 1973 Graduation began on a saddening note as the graduands proceeded to their seats to the sounds of "There is a Time and Place for Us." The guest speaker, Honorable Grant MacEwan, spoke to the graduands. Mr. Garrett represented the school board and Mr. Smeltzer represented the administration. Clark Jantzie gave a complete class history and Brian Cebuliak delivered a thought-provoking valedictory. The class gift was a clean school.

The Graduation Banquet and Dance, held on May 5, 1973 in the Tonquin Room of the Macdonald Hotel was a resounding success. Grad President, Linda Smith, Mr. Peters, and Mr. Stolee spoke to the graduands, parents and teachers at the banquet.

The dance following the banquet proved to be enjoyable for all.

VALEDICTORY

"Every human being being is not only himself. He is also the unique, quite special, altogether important and remarkable point where the phenomena of the world intersect just once and never again in precisely this way. Therefore, every human being's history is important, everlasting, divine; therefore, every human being, as long as he lives and carries out nature's will, is something wonderful and worthy of every attention."

These words were written by Herman Hesse, a modern novelist and poet who was concerned about the individual's development and self-discovery. His words are very propitious to this occasion. For are we not concerned today with history and development of every individual graduate? For just under two decades each one of us has been experiencing his own unique intersection of phenomena which have made up his life. Graduation is the time for celebration and contemplation of arrival at this "remarkable point."

Each one of us has spent three long years working toward the specific goal of graduation from Harry Ainlay. Much of the meaning of our lives has been in working toward this goal. However, now that we have finally arrived here, the importance of the achievement has diminished. For life is a continuing process involved in coming here, but from here, but from here on the important thing will be the process involved in attaining our new goals.

Yes, coming here... We always seem to remember the good times. In thinking about those memorable times, whether we were enjoying ourselves or struggling over some difficult task, we observe that those times were when we were at the peak of operation. But in order to have experienced the stimulation of those times, the reaction with our environment and the growth resulting from this reaction, we needed catalysts. These catalysts were the people around us guiding, instructing, organizing, influencing and loving us. These people, our parents, teachers, coaches and friends, these parts of us will always be acknowledged and remembered.

Because of these people our pasts have been relatively stable, certain and comfortable. In the future we will have more autonomy but with this autonomy more vulnerability to the awesome world forces which have directed and influenced all men throughout history and which will direct and influence us. We may fear the uncertain world of the future because we may feel we lack power and control. However, we have been granted some power and freedom to direct our lives. This power has come from the past in the form of education.

This education means the process by which we learn to apply ourselves to our fullest capabilities. It is a process which should never stop at scheduled school courses. To be educated is to be aware of "the phenomena of the world" which are affecting us. Being aware is not a passive state of observation. Being aware means also participation in the world around us. Specifically education gives us two main attributes in becoming more aware. First it gives us the tools to deal with the ordered part of our world, the knowledge, skills and practise in reason which we must learn to apply in any field of endeavor. Without these tools we could not be socialized, we could not fit into and adapt to our complex, changing society. With these tools we will have the ability and courage to face the future.

Second, education helps us to become more sensitive so we may absorb and react to the concrete reality of experience, the accumulation of our thoughts, our emotions and our senses. This quality instills in us the curiosity and the hunger to live a full life. This second part of education teaches us to appreciate the beautiful. Sensitivity allows us to come into closer contact with other people; through these others we find ourselves. By this process we learn compassion and love.

It is these two concepts of education - this balanced dichotomy - which makes us human, which sets us above the blind obedience of animals to their passions and machines to their programs. So Shakespeare said:

"and blessed are those Whose blood and judgement are so well commingled
That they are not a pipe for Fortune's finger
To sound what stop she please."

It is this commingling of Blood and judgement, of passion and reason, which gives us such unique creative potential, which makes us aware.

And now we bid farewell to Harry Ainlay. From here let us carry with us those attributes of unique individuals, defining our goals and pursuing them creatively; facing the future not with uncertainty, but with awareness. If each one of us does this we should, as Hesse writes, be "wonderful and worthy of every attention."

Bryan Cebuliak

A TOAST TO THE GRADUATING CLASS

When I was asked to speak to the graduating class this evening, I felt a sense of honor for being asked to do this. As I searched for something to say that might be intelligent and appropriate, I began to feel a sense of terror. As I stand before you now, a third dimension has been added - what did I ever do to you guys that you want to get even with me this way? It must have been all those pink slips I made you fill out. Incidentally, if some of you grads want to make a bushel, get into medical research. If you ever find a cure for that flu bug that strikes some of you five or six times in three months you have it made.

Seriously, I do feel honored to be here and I hope that what I have to say will not lessen the respect that you have accorded me. I say it with a heartfelt concern for your life ahead, that when you look back you can say, "It has been good." I am going to present you with some concerns and ideas that I have - then I shall ask you to do something.

You are reaching adulthood now - physically, mentally and legally. In a few weeks most of you are going to be leaving high school and entering another phase of your life. Some of you will go to University or technical schools, some to jobs or travel and some to wander aimlessly, or as they would reply if questioned, "to look for meaning in life." To me, life is not a meaning - it is an opportunity, an opportunity to put together a series of meaningful experiences and hence to make life meaningful: an experience we can enjoy. Life will not be meaningful if you wait for it to come to you.

In connection with this, I am beginning to feel that, to a certain extent, we are, by default, contributing to some of the restlessness and aimlessness that you feel. When I say we, I include the school, the home, and other related agencies that are concerned with your education and well-being. I say we contribute to this because I feel that we are doing less and less to provide and/or require certain basic guidelines of personal conduct and knowledge assimilation which would help you to avoid making mistakes that others - and I suppose ourselves - have made and would give you a sounder base from which to form your decisions. All this, not because we are smarter or better, simply because we have experienced more. I would not let my eight year old gallop gaily on steep banks of a raging torrent with the thought, "Well, I'll let him decide if it's dangerous or not. If he falls in then he'll know." At that point it would be pretty useless information to him. Perhaps this analogy is an overstatement of the problem but I feel that there is a parallel of one form or another there. I am also beginning to feel that, basically, this is really what you are searching for - a series of guard-rails that would provide a buffer for you to bump against, to find out why they are there, hence, minimizing the danger of falling over and losing control. In defense of ourselves though, I think we are being drawn into this situation by what I am going to call "the cult of the individual" - the philosophy of "do your own thing" - "let it all hang out man." Today many talk about the fact that the world is becoming characterized by feelings of alienation, loneliness, and anguish. It is my firm belief that the excess of this "do your own thing" bit is the major cause. We will become further alienated and more lonely unless we concern ourselves as much with the rights, freedoms, concerns and well-being of others as we do with our own.

Now that I have taken a few shots at myself and others in what some loosely call the establishment, how about you. I see many things that puzzle me and give me concern. It gives me a very good feeling to see the concern you express and the action you take with regard to business polluting the environment - then I walk down the halls, by the cafeteria and the smoking area and I wonder.

I feel confident for the future when I see the concern for individual freedoms in your writings and discussions and then I see classroom attendance plummet, I look at assignments (When you have them), I see the way some students are treated in the halls - then I feel that something is being abused.

I am aware of some of the excellent work that some of you perform in the community (and farther) - I am also aware that I am unaware of much more that you do for us as well as yourselves. At the same time I am aware of the careless and/or heedless actions that tend to detract so much from the good that has been done.

I think back to the incomplete and unfinished assignments and the days that you --- well --- let's just say that you were indisposed. I think of some of the excuses: "Well, there's this important telephone call ...", or, "but Mr. Peters, my books were in this guy's locker and I had to find him," or, "Well- uh - well you see, Mr. Stolee was a bit uptight and he - uh - well he nailed me," or, "this judge won't wait...".

I also remember the enjoyable times: the discussions, the laughs and the work that has been accomplished by many. Tonight I see the way that you comport yourselves - I can see the pride in your parents eyes. You can feel the excitement and good-feeling in this gathering.

Perhaps now you can see why I am puzzled - why I have ambivalent feelings about your accomplishments.

I want to read you something I ran across not too long ago. It is the entire commencement address given by Chancellor Larry T. McGhee to the University of Alabama in May of last year. I commend it to you - in fact - to all of us.

Mr. President and friends, venerable graduates, and vulnerable administrators, I cannot thank you adequately for asking me to say a few words today: Rage, Reason, Read, Laugh, Linger, Love. RAGE - Age and education give you authority, citizenship the responsibility, to rage against mediocrity and injustice in your society, more especially in yourself. Lest you leave your life on an altar of ethical neutrality or find your soul eroded by gentle raindrops of moral detachment, heed Dylan Thomas:

Do not go gentle into that good night;
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

REASON - More things are wrought by reason than this world dreams of; wherefore, make reason the nuclear weapon of your arsenal of rage, and by its use convince others of your integrity, if not of your rightness. The hand that cradles the rock, the heart that heeds not the head, must not rule this world.

READ - Bury yourself in good books and read them often; too soon the minister will bury you and read for you. Develop a thirst for printer's ink and quench it by reading, for from books flows the fountain of youth found by few.

LAUGH - He who cannot laugh at himself always appears ridiculous.

LINGER - Everything has its season; time will wait for what's worthwhile. Heed the South Alabama philosopher: Pause to pick some flowers along your way.

LOVE - Love is the most unnatural human emotion; although we have learned to transplant the human heart, we have not learned to transplant it. Commit an unnatural act: Love one another.

These are the ideas that I wanted to present. Now for what I would ask you to do. Would you spend even a little time thinking about these ideas, especially those of Chancellor McGhee's to see if they can help you in your approach to life's problems. If they can then I have accomplished something tonight, if not, I apologize for wasting your time.

Now (I know I speak for everyone here tonight) I wish you well, I pray that you find both the courage and the discipline to work with others for a better world wherever you may ultimately find yourself.

Ladies and Gentlemen, will you now rise and, with me, drink a toast to the graduands.

Thank you.

Mr. Peters

CLASS HISTORY

As the graduating class of 1973 we will soon be bidding a final farewell to the hallowed corridors of Harry Ainlay. Although we only have vague impressions of what is in store for us in the future, we can recall incidents in the past which have now become history. But a history worth noting, because it says something about the people who made it.

Grade ten was the year for introduction. We made new friends and became acquainted with the various aspects of high school life. For the first time in our lives we learned the true meaning of the pink, blue, and yellow slips of paper which the administration regularly forwarded to the students. Even though the classroom attendance for some students dropped as the year progressed, the vast majority of us pursued our interests and became involved in the academic, vocational, and athletic areas of the school. Among our accomplishments of the first year was the winning of the Junior Boys aggregate in track and field, the Junior Boys Basketball Team advancing to the city finals, and probably most enjoyable, the caretakers strike.

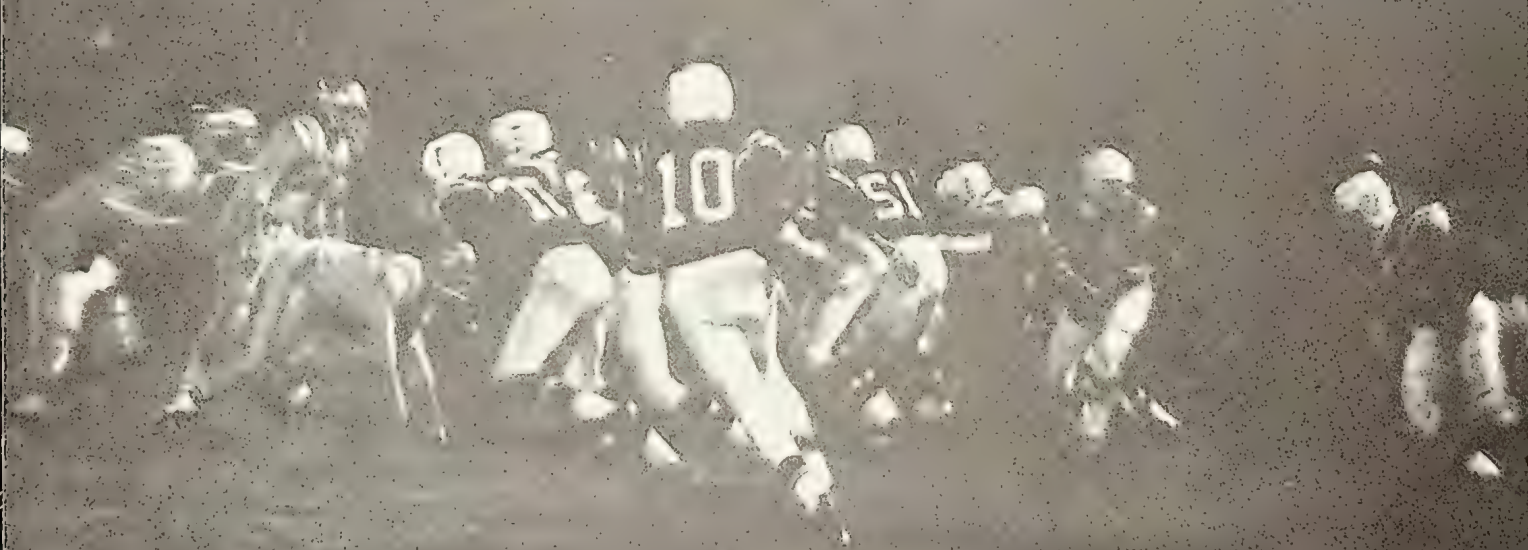

The experience and enjoyment were the highlights of our second term at Harry Ainlay. House league became an effective instrument in providing noon hour entertainment with such competitions as volleyball, basketball, and riddley winks. It will be hard for us to forget the most cruel, blood-thirsty, vicious competition of the year. This was the girls floor hockey. On the days that the girls played floor hockey the small gymnasium transformed into a den of horror. The Senior and Junior Football Teams did extremely well in the 1971-72 season. The Junior Titans became co-city champs while the Senior Titans proceeded to the city finals. Individuals also gained respect and honor for themselves and the school in almost all areas including beauty culture and food preparation.

This year, grade 12, a number of graduates unveiled their hidden leadership qualities. Many who had never accepted leadership responsibility, realized that this would be their last year at Harry Ainlay and in order for the school to proceed properly it was up to them to provide the initiative, incentive, and a model to the grade 10 and 11 students. The class hopes it has been able to provide this leadership in all areas. This year Women's Liberation was indeed a reality at Harry Ainlay. For the second consecutive year females held the position of President in the Student's Union and Grad Council. Male dominance on the football field was also challenged by the formation of a powerful girls football team. Endeavors of members of our class started to pay off as we did well in nearly all extra-curricular activities. We shone in athletics, doing well in football, basketball, and badminton. As well, our artistic achievements in debating, Reach for the Top, and drama were impressive.

Over the years at Harry Ainlay we have become indebted to the teachers and administration who have been friendly, capable, and encouraging. It is comforting to know that Mr. Tulloch's sweat suit has not worn out, as of yet and that John and Marsha are alive and working hard in the counselling office.

School has been a rewarding experience for all of us. We have matured into a unified class containing all of the essential elements required to further our education or to proceed into the business world. Doing well now greatly influence whether or not we will attain our goals in life.

THE LAST PAGE

As I look back and remember all of the frustrations and the many smiles we shared together in making this book possible, all I have to say is:

Time it was, And what a time it was, it was, A time of innocence, A time of confidences Long ago it must be, I have a photograph, preserves your memories, they're all that's left you.

Thank you,
Joan Thede
